

Good Life China (GLCC) Acquires Entervision, LLC and majority position in Innovation

BEIJING, Jan. 26- Good Life China Corporation <http://www.goodlifechina.com/> (GLCC) is pleased to announce that it has acquired a majority controlling interest of Entervision, LLC. Entervision LLC controls Innovation Investment Company (China) <http://www.ydwtz.com/> (Innovation) and <http://www.ydwtz.com/html/ysfm/ysfc.html>

Innovation is a private school - early education company in China. The company has assets of about 6 million dollars USD and revenues in the 4 million USD range. Most of Innovation assets are real estate or hard asset based. Innovation method is characterized by an emphasis on self-directed activity on the part of the child and clinical observation on the part of the teacher. It stresses the importance of adapting the child's learning environment to his or her developmental level, and of the role of physical activity in absorbing abstract concepts and practical skills.

Entervision, LLC is a pre public company (quoted on gray sheets ETVS).

Mr. Yang a spokesman for Good Life China said “We were approached by Innovation for guidance and assistance in going public and through solicitation (non conflict of interest) for appointment of some of our existing directors and board members. At present our role is that of a financier (convertible debt) and a consultant role through the expertise of our Secretary through our North American office. Our corporate advisors began looking for the current market maker for Entervision, in preparation of the 15c211 application; so to enable ETVS to become a full pink sheet company.

We foresee Entervision LLC adding value in terms of assets and revenues to our holdings which by all accounts should flow through to our shareholders and our share price. We see Entervision remaining an operating subsidiary of Good Life China. We continue negotiations with both a completely separate publicly traded entity for the purchase of our controlling block of Stuart Packaging www.stuart.ca and a split off of our logistics division.”

Good Life China Secretary Mr. Garr Winters said “We have been repeatedly asked by our shareholders as to why the outstanding share structure has increased. Simply, Good Life China has acquired many assets such as this one, plus interest in Stuart and many other ventures and expansions not yet announced. These are not inexpensive projects. These are real companies with real hard assets and real revenues. In discussing the game plan with the principals of Good Life China the CEO Ms. Jia and the GLCC board remain optimistic and convinced that growth through acquisitions of already established companies coupled with organic growth of Good Life China is the best course for the company at this time. The current economic climate has created a boom of acquisition opportunities. My recommendations to the company are that, should these acquisitions and growths not be recognized by the markets in the value of GLCC share price than the Good Life management must consider to pay out in part or in whole the proceeds of these acquisitions to its long term shareholder base in a form of a special onetime dividend. I'm pleased to report that my dividend proposal was well received in China and that the upper management has agreed that this will be one of the options implemented soon along with others as the company addresses its share price and values”
